

EXECUTIVE JOURNAL.

[NINTH SESSION.]

The Ninth Session of the Senate of the United States, began November 3d, 1794.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1794.

The following written message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Dandridge, his Secretary:

UNITED STATES, November 21st, 1794.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

In the negotiation between the United States and his Catholic Majesty, I have received satisfactory proofs of attention and ability, exerted in behalf of the United States, to bring it to a happy and speedy issue. But it is probable that, by complying with an intimation made to the Secretary of State by the Commissioners of his Catholic Majesty, much further delay in concluding it may be prevented. Notwithstanding, therefore, I retain full confidence in our Minister resident at Madrid, who is charged with powers as Commissioner Plenipotentiary, I nominate

Thomas Pinckney, to be Envoy Extraordinary of the United States to His Catholic Majesty, for the purpose of negotiating of and concerning the navigation of the river Mississippi, and such other matters relative to the confines of their territories, and the intercourse to be had thereon, as the mutual interests and general harmony of neighboring and friendly nations require, should be precisely adjusted and regulated; and of and concerning the general commerce between the said United States and the kingdoms and dominions of his said Catholic Majesty.

It is believed that, by his temporary absence from London, in the discharge of these new functions, no injury will arise to the United States.

I also nominate

John Miller Russell, of Massachusetts, to be Consul of the United States of America for the port of St. Petersburg, in Russia, and for such other places as shall be nearer to the said port than to the residence of any other Consul or Vice-Consul of the United States within the same allegiance.

Joseph Pitcairn, of New York, to be Vice-Consul of the United States of America at Paris, vice Alexander Duvernety superseded; and Nathaniel Brush, of Vermont, to be Supervisor for the United States in the district of Vermont, vice Noah Smith, who has resigned.

Go. WASHINGTON.

The message was read.

Ordered, That it lie for consideration.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1794.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the message of the President of the United States, of the 21st instant, containing the nomination of—
Thomas Pinckney, to be Envoy Extraordinary of the United States to His Catholic Majesty.

John Miller Russell, of Massachusetts, to be Consul of the United States of America for the port of St. Petersburg, in Russia.

Joseph Pitcairn, of New York, to be Vice-Consul of the United States at Paris; and

Nathaniel Brush, of Vermont, to be Supervisor for the United States in the District of Vermont; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointments, agreeable to the nominations, respectively.

Ordered, That the Secretary lay this resolution before the President of the United States.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 2, 1795.

The following written messages were received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Dandridge, his Secretary:

UNITED STATES, January 2d, 1795.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

A spirit of discontent, from several causes, arose in the early part of the present year, among the Six Nations of Indians, and particularly on the ground of a projected settlement by Pennsylvania, at Presque Isle, upon Lake Erie. The papers, upon this point, have already been laid before Congress. It was deemed proper, on my part, to endeavor to tranquillize the Indians, by pacific measures. Accordingly, a time and place was appointed, at which a free conference should be had, upon all the causes of discontent, and an Agent was appointed, with the instructions of which No. 1, herewith transmitted, is a copy.

A numerous assembly of Indians was held in Canandaigua, in the State of New York, the proceedings whereof accompany this message, marked No. 2.

The two treaties, the one with the Six Nations, and the other with the Oneida, Tuscorora, and Stockbridge Indians, dwelling in the country of the Oneidas, which have resulted from the mission of the Agent, are herewith laid before the Senate, for their consideration and advice.

The original engagement of the United States to the Oneidas, is also sent herewith.

Go. WASHINGTON.

UNITED STATES, January 2d, 1795.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

I nominate Timothy Pickering, to be Secretary for the Department of War, vice Henry Knox, who has resigned that office.

Go. WASHINGTON.

The message and papers accompanying the treaties, were respectively read.

Ordered, That they lie for consideration.

It was agreed, by unanimous consent, to dispense with the rule, and proceed to the consideration of the nomination of Timothy Pickering to be Secretary for the Department of War; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment, agreeable to the nomination.

Ordered, That the Secretary lay this resolution before the President of the United States.

MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1795.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the message of the President of the United States, of the 2d instant, and the treaty with the Six Nations of Indians therein referred to; and,

On motion,

Ordered, That the further consideration of the treaty be postponed.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the message from the President of the United States, of the 30th of December last, and the additional articles to the treaty, made by General Knox, on behalf of the United States, with the Cherokee Indians.

On motion,

Ordered, That they be referred to Mr. Jackson, Mr. Hawkins, and Mr. Brown, to consider and report thereon to the Senate.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1795.

The papers respecting the negotiation of a treaty of peace, by Timothy Pickering, on behalf of the United States, with the Six Nations of Indians, referred to in the message of the President of the United States, of the 2d instant, were read.

Ordered, That they lie for consideration.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1795.

On motion,

Ordered, That the treaty made by Timothy Pickering, Commissioner on the part of the United States, with the Six Nations, be referred to Mr. Strong, Mr. Morris, and Mr. Brown, to consider and report thereon to the Senate.

Mr. Rutherford, from the Committee appointed to consider the message of the President of the United States, of the 29th of December last, made report. Whereupon,

The Senate resumed the consideration of the nomination of William Aylet Lee, to be a Captain in the corps of Artillerists and Engineers; and on the question to advise and consent to his appointment, conformable to the nomination, it passed in the negative.

And the question being put on the several subsequent nominations contained in the said message, of the 29th of December last,

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointments, agreeable to the nominations respectively.

Ordered, That the Secretary lay this resolution before the President of the United States.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1795.

Mr. Jackson reported, from the Committee appointed to consider the articles agreed on by General Knox, in behalf of the United States, with the Cherokee Indians, and communicated with the message of the President of the United States, of the 30th of December last, that they be ratified.

Whereupon,

Resolved, (two-thirds of the Senate concurring therein,) That they do advise and consent to the ratification thereof.

Ordered, That the Secretary lay this resolution before the President of the United States.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1795.

Mr. Strong reported, from the Committee appointed to consider the treaties made by Timothy Pickering, Commissioner on behalf of the United States, with the Six Nations of Indians, of the 11th of November, 1794; and also the treaty with the Oneida, Tuscorora, and Stockbridge Indians, of the 2d of December, 1794. Ordered, That the Secretary lay this resolution before the President of the United States.

The following written confidential message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Dandridge, his Secretary:

Gentlemen of the Senate, and of the House of Representatives:

In my first communication to Congress, during their present session, I gave them reason to expect that "certain circumstances of our intercourse with foreign nations," would be transmitted to them. There was, at that time, every assurance for believing that some of the most important of our foreign affairs would have been concluded, and others considerably matured, before they should rise. But, notwithstanding I have waited until this moment, it has so happened that either from causes unknown to me, or from events which could not be controlled, I am yet unable to execute my original intention. That I may, however, fulfil the expectation given, as far as the actual situation of things will in my judgment permit, I now, in confidence, lay before Congress the following general statement.

Our Minister near the French Republic has urged compensation for the injuries which our commerce has sustained, from captures by French cruisers, from the non-fulfilment of the contracts of the agents of that Republic with our citizens, and from the embargo at Bordeaux. He has also pressed an allowance for the money voted by Congress, for relieving the inhabitants of St. Domingo. It affords me the highest pleasure to inform Congress that perfect harmony reigns between the two Republics; and that those claims are in a train of being discussed with candor, and of being amicably adjusted.

So much of our relation to Great Britain may depend upon the result of our late negotiations in London, that until that, result shall arrive, I cannot undertake to make any communication upon this subject.

After the negotiation with Spain had been long depending, unusual and unexpected embarrassments were raised to interrupt its progress. But the Commissioner of his Catholic Majesty, near the United States, having declared to the Secretary of State, that if a particular accommodation should be made in the conducting of the business, no further delay would ensue; I thought proper, under all circumstances, to send to his Catholic Majesty an Envoy Extraordinary, specially charged to bring to a conclusion the discussions which have been formerly announced to Congress.

The friendship of her most faithful Majesty has been often manifested in checking the passage of the Algerine corsairs into the Atlantic Ocean. She has also furnished occasional convoys to the vessels of the United States, even when bound to other ports than her own. We may therefore promise ourselves, that, as in the ordinary course of things, few causes can exist for dissatisfaction between the United States and Portugal; so the temper with which accidental difficulties will be met on each side, will speedily remove them.

Between the Executive of the United States and the government of the United Netherlands, but little intercourse has taken place during the last year. It may be acceptable to Congress to learn that our credit in Holland is represented as standing upon the most respectable footing.

Upon the death of the late Emperor of Morocco, an agent was despatched to renew with his successor, the treaty which the United States had made with him. The agent unfortunately died, after he had reached Europe, in the prosecution of his mission. But, until lately, it was impossible to determine, with any degree of probability, who of the competitors for that empire would be ultimately fixed in the supreme power. Although the measures which have been since adopted, for the renewal of the treaty, have been obstructed by the disturbed situation of Amsterdam, there are good grounds for presuming, as yet, upon the pacific disposition of the Emperor in fact, towards the United States, and that the past miscarriage will be shortly remedied.

Congress are already acquainted with the failure of the loan, attempted in Holland, for the relief of our unhappy fellow-citizens in Algiers. This subject, than which none deserves a more affectionate zeal, has constantly commanded my best exertions. I am happy, therefore, in being able to say, that, from the last authentic accounts, the Dey was disposed to treat for a peace and ransom, and that both would, in all probability, have been accomplished, had we not been disappointed in the means. Nothing which depends upon the Executive shall be left undone, for carrying into immediate effect the supplementary act of Congress.
